Ready Set Plumb Sponsors Forest Rugby Club Ahead of NSW Finals

August 31, 2026

ROSEVILLE, NSW - August 31, 2026 -
Roseville-based licensed plumber Ready Set Plumb has sponsored Forestville's Forest Rugby Club as three senior teams reach the 2026 grand finals, reinforcing its North Shore community ties.

Ready Set Plumb, a licensed plumbing and gas fitting company based in Roseville on Sydney's North Shore, has become a sponsor of the Forest Rugby Club in neighbouring Forestville, whose 2nd Grade, 3rd Grade and Colts sides are all preparing to contest grand finals this season.

The company has built its trade as a plumber Sydney households across the metropolitan area call on, and more specifically as a plumber North Shore residents in suburbs such as Forestville already use, a footprint the sponsorship extends rather than replaces. The move comes as Australia's plumbing services sector, valued at $22.2 billion in the 2024-25 financial year according to IBISWorld, leans more heavily on maintenance and repair work while new-home construction slows.

Forest Rugby Club, established in 1958 and based five minutes' drive from Ready Set Plumb's Roseville office, fields teams from under-6s through to senior grade in the NSW Suburban Rugby Union's Kentwell Cup. The club has organised a supporters' bus to carry fans to this weekend's grand finals, and Ready Set Plumb joins its existing sponsor roster ahead of those matches, a partnership the company frames as an extension of trade already done in the area rather than a one-off marketing spend.

Forestville and Roseville sit within the same stretch of Sydney's North Shore that Ready Set Plumb has serviced since the business was founded, and the sponsorship follows jobs the company has already carried out for households connected to the club.

Ready Set Plumb is run by Ryan Godfrey, a licensed plumber and gas fitter of 22 years who has owned and operated the business across Sydney's North Shore for more than 12 of them. In New South Wales, a plumbing licence is issued by NSW Fair Trading only after an accredited apprenticeship and ongoing compliance checks, and every job at Ready Set Plumb is carried out by the company's own employees rather than subcontractors. The business holds $20 million in public liability cover and carries NSW Contractor Licence 266660C.

That in-house structure underpins the guarantees the company puts to customers directly, a $0 call-out fee, fixed prices quoted before work begins, and specific arrival windows rather than open-ended time slots. Ready Set Plumb also has a lifetime labour guarantee on its workmanship, and a 50-year warranty on trenchless pipe relining, a repair method that inserts a resin liner inside an existing pipe instead of digging it up.

Over more than a decade of trading, Ready Set Plumb says it has become one of the North Shore's most word-of-mouth-referred plumbing businesses, a claim it points to a 4.9-star average across 326 Google reviews, current as of August 2026, to support. That reputation has carried into a wider client base across the Northern Beaches, Eastern Suburbs, Inner West and Hills District, who call on the company for blocked drains, hot water repairs, leak detection and strata plumbing work.

Nationally, house construction activity has softened over the past two years, according to IBISWorld's 2025 analysis of the plumbing services industry, while non-residential building and multi-unit work have picked up some of the slack. In that climate, a sponsorship such as Ready Set Plumb's tie-up with Forest Rugby functions as visibility in the suburb the business already serves, and the club's fixtures give it a recurring, dated reason to be mentioned alongside a long-established local institution.
