

Video Synd Alpha Launch Announced

April 29, 2015

April 29, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

SEO specialist Anthony Hayes developer announces the launch of Video Synd Alpha and the Alpha brand amid intense expectation from both web and video SEO experts. Tony says, "this cutting edge next generation video syndication software tool Video Synd Alpha will be available soon and the first of the Alpha brand product line. My team is putting the software through comprehensive and rigorous testing to be sure all its various aspects are functioning as intended before release this week."

Anthony explains where he is headed with the Alpha brand, "We have been quietly working on a new brand and new direction since the two December launches and have been rebuilding our codes from the ground up to accommodate the new ALPHA tools." When asked Tony continued, "So what's with the ALPHA name? Simple explanation is this? I take an important SEO base strategy I modernize it with my own unique SEO strategies that I have created and use myself and know that work? And we automate them into the ultimate Alpha software tools. But it's more than that too. We are taking it to the limit." Anthony then added, "The list of strategies that are incorporated into Video Synd Alpha include advanced video syndication techniques never before seen. With this new software we take video syndication that to an entirely new level."

Here is a partial list of the functions of this new software:

Sharing Site Syndication

2.0 Video Embed Syndication

One Click Social Site Syndication

One Click High PR Web 2.0 Blog Networks

Instant Auto Indexing & Pinging

Comment Silos On All YouTube Video Comments

Fan Page Video Ranking System

Concluding Anthony ended with, "So what have we done here? These are all real working strategies, and 90% unique to what I do myself and I have incorporated them in the creation of multiple tools within the software to make using these advanced strategies incredibly easy and lightning fast. The good news is that these strategies have been working well for me for some. This is the ultimate video syndication tool. No one could come close to this, because they do not have the strategies and wouldn't be able to compete with us on price or the SEO strategies even if they tried."
