

Quality Pro Painting Introduces Lime Washing Among Expanded Decorative Finishes

November 27, 2026

November 27, 2026 -
Quality Pro Painting, a licensed and insured painting contractor serving Northwest Arkansas, is formally expanding its decorative finish offerings with the addition of a lime washing service. The expansion broadens the company's interior finish portfolio for residential and commercial clients seeking natural, textured wall treatments.

Lime washing is a breathable mineral finish that creates soft, textured movement on walls. The application adds depth, warmth, and an old-world, handcrafted feel to interior spaces. The Quality Pro Painting Lime washing service joins a broader collection of decorative finishes that the company now highlights as part of its interior work.

Alongside lime washing, the decorative finish portfolio includes white washing, a diluted white tint that brightens surfaces while preserving natural grain or texture. The lineup also features Venetian glaze, a translucent, layered finish with subtle luminosity, and Venetian plaster, a polished, lime-based finish that mimics natural stone with a marble-like surface. A mineral paint option, made from mineral pigments for a matte, earthy finish, rounds out the offerings with durability and breathability.

The company was founded in 2014 by Obed Posadas, who brings more than 15 years of industry experience to the business. The decorative finish expansion reflects a growing interest among homeowners and commercial property owners in textured, handcrafted wall treatments that differ from standard flat paint applications.

"Lime washing has been part of decorative traditions for centuries, and interest in these natural finishes continues to grow," said Obed Posadas of Quality Pro Painting. "Adding this service allows the team to meet client requests for finishes that carry texture and character while remaining breathable and durable."

All decorative finish work is performed by a team of trained professionals. The company emphasizes on-time project completion and clear communication throughout each job, from the initial consultation to final application.

"Each decorative finish requires specific techniques and careful preparation," Posadas said. "The team approaches every project with attention to detail and keeps clients informed at each stage so the result matches what was discussed."

In addition to decorative finishes, Quality Pro Painting provides exterior painting, interior painting, and deck and fence painting and staining. The company offers color consultation services to assist clients with exterior selections and aims to deliver durable results across residential and commercial projects. Estimates are based on actual measurements, and the company stands behind its work with warranties.

Quality Pro Painting has operated in Northwest Arkansas for more than 15 years and continues to serve both homeowners and commercial clients across the region. The company is licensed and insured, with a team of professional painters and support personnel. Its service range covers interior and exterior projects as well as outdoor wooden structures such as decks and fences.

The addition of lime washing and the broader decorative finish lineup reflects the company's ongoing effort to respond to client interest in specialized interior treatments. Quality Pro Painting continues to build on its established presence in the regional painting market with services designed for long-lasting durability and a refined finished appearance.
