Universi-T's offers a line of custom Greek apparel and gear for fraternities and sororities, regardless of campus. The fun of being part of Greek houses is enhanced with comfortable campus wear.

Columbia MO: Founded more than 25 years ago, Universi-T's and Joel Kreisman are pleased to announce that they are now offering custom greek apparel. The positive parts of the college experience include pledging and joining fraternities and sororities. Members of the houses want to show off their affiliation at all times, so the company provides a number of ways to express the camaraderie with attractive and comfortable custom apparel.

According to owner Joel Kreisman, ?We have been located here in Columbia, Missouri for over 25 years. I began the business as a student at the University of Missouri and have continued to live here and operate my family-owned business here. We are Tiger fans in their good times and bad. We practice a philosophy of getting the job done for each of our valued customers. This focus is the basis of our business model.?

The company offers designs suitable for both fraternity and sorority clothing lines. Customers can begin with one of our standard designs in various categories or can use the features of the Design Studio in order to create a fresh and unique design. The designs are as simple or as complex as desired and can be utilized to celebrate anniversaries, participation in events or other notable occasions.
