

Softbreath Laundry Bag Receives Rave Reviews

July 11, 2016

July 11, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

SoftBreath has recently released a heavy duty laundry bag, designed to make the process of carrying laundry to and from the machine a lot easier. The company explained that doing the laundry is perhaps one of the most hated chores in people's household, thus, making it a bit easier is essential. While only recently released, the product is already receiving rave reviews on Amazon.

Patrick Shawn from SoftBreath says: "Our heavy duty laundry bag is a durable, water resistant bag with shoulder straps for easy carrying. It is perfect for apartments, vacations, dorm rooms, travel, or just any regular household. We understand how annoying it can be to get all the laundry downstairs so we aimed to create something that would take some of the difficulty out of that. We're really happy to see that people are enjoying our product."

At 21" by 27" standing, the bag is very large and can fit an array of clothes, including jeans, tops, towels, and more. The company describes it as a 'one and done convenience', ensuring that people only have to make a single trip to the laundry room or laundrette, rather than having to haul multiple bags with them. Made from 100% premium quality nylon, the bag is very flexible even when stuffed full, meaning it will never rip, stretch or tear.

People who have used the bag have been very pleased with it. They cite that the size is just right, and that it is perfect for holding things like gym clothes. It is also useful for families while they are traveling. Everyone also seemed particularly happy with the fact that the bag acts as a backpack thanks to the shoulder straps, allowing them to carry the laundry more easily.

"Our bag really is perfect for travel," adds Patrick Shawn. "It is lightweight and folds down to a small bag when not in use. This means there is no longer any need to stuff dirty laundry in random plastic bags anymore. Plus, we have even thought about style, designing the bag in black and white with a funny quote on it. Spreading a little happiness while doing chores is one of our goals. In addition, the bag comes with a 100% satisfaction guarantee."

###

For more information about softBreath, contact the company here:softBreathpatrickShawn504-287-6979media@SoftBreath.com

softBreath

Email: media@SoftBreath.com

Phone: 504-287-6979

Powered by PressAdvantage.com