Natural Pet Shampoo Company Announces Staff Changes

November 22, 2016

November 22, 2016 -
Vaughn, Ontario, Canada based company Soap.Club has announced that Jack Widmer, Manager of the Pet Spa line, has transitioned from Southern Ontario to the Cleveland, Ohio area. The move comes as the company has launched a campaign to make their natural pet shampoo available for purchase at veterinarian clinics with grooming centers throughout the US Midwest. Mr. Widmer will oversee all aspects of implementation, supply chain management, and sales coordination.

Connie Farrar, General Manager of Soap.Club, says: "We believe that this move will be beneficial for all involved, and we're excited to be taking this next step in our business operations."

Soap.Club offers a line of natural pet products, including their newest pet shampoo with oatmeal, that is designed to promote health and wellness in dogs and cats. The company states that Mr. Widmer will now be heading up the expansion for their pet spa line of products.

Soap.Club dog and cat shampoo products are all made with natural ingredients, something the company is very proud of. Farrar states that they strive to provide the highest quality of pet products, ensuring that all ingredients are verified to be safe and healthy for dogs and cats.

"We believe in only using natural ingredients to protect the health of your pets," says Farrar. "Our products contain vital ingredients such as oatmeal, aloe vera, grapefruit extract, and others that offer some benefit to your pet's skin and coat."

Farrar states that the company does not use any harsh chemicals, coloring, or other ingredients that could cause harsh reactions or allergies in pets, and that all of their products are manufactured in in facilities that are strictly regulated. Products that are part of the lineup being promoted in veterinary clinics and dog groomer salons include the company's dog odor eliminator, as well as various shampoo and detangler products designed to give dogs and cats healthier coats and skin.

More about Soap.Club including a look at their current available products and the new line that they are actively promoting in pet spas and clinics across the Midwestern United States can be seen on the company's official website.
