

NextDAY Cabinets Highlights Richmond Showroom as Local Wholesale Cabinet Resource for Central Virginia Trade Professionals

November 16, 2026

CHANTILLY, VA - November 16, 2026 -
NextDAY Cabinets LLC is drawing attention to its Richmond showroom as a local sourcing resource for contractors, builders, remodelers, cabinet dealers, and designers working across Richmond and Central Virginia. The location on Deep Rock Road serves trade professionals who need to review cabinetry options in person, coordinate project specifications, and arrange either pickup or job-site delivery within the regional market.

The Richmond showroom gives construction and design professionals direct access to kitchen cabinets from multiple brands in a single setting. Trade clients can examine finishes, door styles, and construction details before placing orders, a practical step when matching products to client expectations and project requirements. The showroom supports contractors who prefer to evaluate selections firsthand rather than relying solely on catalogs or digital images.

As a trade-focused distributor, NextDAY Cabinets serves dealers, contractors, remodelers, builders, and other industry professionals rather than retail homeowners. The Richmond location carries cabinet lines from brands including Shiloh Cabinetry, Kith Kitchens, Waypoint Cabinets, Marsh Furniture, Forevermark Cabinets, Golden Home, Wolf Home Products, Mantra Cabinets, and Lineadecor, giving professionals a range of options across different styles and price points.

Professional design support is available to help trade clients plan kitchen and bath layouts and coordinate specifications for their projects. The NextDAY Cabinets Richmond showroom also offers a custom paint program, closet solutions, bathroom products, flooring, and accessories, allowing contractors to address multiple elements of a project through one supplier.

"Having a local place to review cabinet options makes a real difference for contractors and designers," said a representative of the Addrify BrandWorks PR Team, speaking on behalf of NextDAY Cabinets. "The Richmond showroom lets trade professionals walk through selections, confirm finishes, and coordinate specifications with design support before an order is finalized. That hands-on review helps keep projects aligned with what clients expect."

The Richmond showroom provides flexible fulfillment for professionals managing active job sites. Clients can pick up orders at the location or arrange delivery to project sites across Central Virginia. This flexibility supports the workflow of builders and remodelers who coordinate materials around construction schedules.

"Access to wholesale kitchen cabinets at a local showroom supports the way trade professionals actually work," the Addrify BrandWorks PR Team representative added. "Between in-person product review, design assistance, and both pickup and delivery options, the Richmond location is set up to serve contractors and dealers throughout the region."

The Richmond showroom is one of several NextDAY Cabinets locations, with additional showrooms in Chantilly, Alexandria, and Woodbridge, Virginia, as well as Beltsville, Maryland, and the greater Chicago market in Illinois. The multi-location presence allows the company to serve trade professionals across Virginia, Maryland, and the Midwest.

NextDAY Cabinets is a distributor of all-wood kitchen cabinets and vanities serving contractors, builders, remodelers, cabinet dealers, and designers. The company supplies cabinetry, closets, bathroom products, flooring, and accessories through its network of showrooms, with professional design support and both pickup and delivery options available to trade clients.
