Wonderful Wags Updates Website and Expands Line of Gourmet Natural Made in the USA Dog Treats Just in Time for the Holidays

November 24, 2016

November 24, 2016 -
Wonderful Wags, a pet care company in Farmington, UT, has announced significant changes to their website and of their expanded line of natural dog treats. Anticipating the needs of pet lovers during the holiday season, the website has a brand-new look and provides information on holiday pet safety. Furthermore, the company's bestselling dog treats are now available on their website.

"We are so excited about all these new developments," says Renee Coulter from Wonderful Wags. "Everything has been completed just in time. Now that the holidays are here, we have great information for pet owners to keep their dogs safe in the hustle and bustle. Since we know that dogs are family members, we have great treats for them to offer to their dogs.

"Our treats are healthy, natural, safe and made of only the finest, human-grade ingredients," Coulter says. "Be the person your dog thinks you are and feed them only the best treats available." The company believes that the natural treats are much safer for pets because they do not contain many of the chemicals and filler ingredients that some store-bought treats contain, which can include things like corn syrup, MSG, and artificial preservatives - all of which have proven to be unhealthy for dogs and cats.

In the extended product lineup, the company has introduced a variety of treats in great new flavors. Coulter notes that while they continue to offer their popular Beef, Turkey and Salmon treats, they?ve added some exciting new flavors ? Pumpkin Snacks, Peanut Butter & Honey Bites and Bacon Maple Crunch Bones, to name a few. A full list of the new products and their ingredients can be seen on the company's website. All of their products are also available on amazon. Renee Coulter adds: "We're really happy to see that people enjoy our product. Our goal is to make sure all dogs can live a happy, healthy life, in return for their fantastic companionship and undying loyalty to their humans. We welcome everybody to share their doggy stories with us on Facebook."

Wonderful Wags is a locally founded, grassroots effort and states that they are committed to making a positive impact on domestic animals. They provide natural treats, along with information for pet owners regarding what to feed and what not to feed their pets. Coulter states that they regularly publish informative articles on their site to go along with their new line of healthy treat products in an effort to provide an overall wellness resource for pet owners.

Wonderful Wags has also launched a Facebook page. This offers the company an opportunity not just to present new information about their products but also about dog safety hints and tips. Furthermore, it allows customers to ask questions and to discuss their own success - or failure - stories when it comes to properly training their dogs. The expected result would be a community of dog lovers who are exchanging information on their experiences.
