

Blue Sky Bistro Highlights Clam Chowder and Sourdough Bread Bowl on Its Morro Bay Menu

November 23, 2026

MORRO BAY, CA - November 23, 2026 -
A visit to the Morro Bay waterfront often calls for a place to pause and share a meal, and Blue Sky Bistro is drawing attention to one of the dishes listed on its menu for diners exploring the area. The restaurant, located at Marina Square at 699 Embarcadero #6 in Morro Bay, California, is highlighting its clam chowder and the sourdough bread bowl serving option available to guests seeking a warm, filling choice during a coastal outing.

The menu lists the chowder under the heading "Locals Favorite" Clam Chowder, wording that appears on the restaurant's own menu. Guests considering the dish will find more than one way to order it. The menu notes cup and bowl servings for those who prefer a lighter starter or a heartier portion, along with a sourdough bread bowl presentation. The Blue Sky Bistro Clam Chowder Bread Bowl gives diners another way to enjoy the chowder, serving it within a hollowed round of sourdough that holds the soup for the length of the meal.

The serving options allow guests to match the dish to their appetite. A cup suits diners who want to sample the chowder alongside other menu items, while a bowl offers a larger serving. The bread bowl presentation provides a self-contained option for those who want the chowder as a centerpiece rather than a side.

The setting fits the dish. Marina Square places Blue Sky Bistro directly along the route many residents and travelers follow when walking the waterfront, making it a convenient stop for seafood dining on the Morro Bay Embarcadero. The restaurant offers a casual environment with views of the bay, and its position supports a meal built into a larger day of strolling, shopping, and taking in the scenery near Morro Rock.

Roger Sharp, owner of Blue Sky Bistro, described how the chowder fits the restaurant's approach. "The clam chowder has long been something guests look for when they stop in, and offering it in a cup, a bowl, or a sourdough bread bowl lets each person choose the serving that suits the moment," said Roger Sharp. "A casual waterfront meal should feel easy, and the menu reflects that."

The chowder sits within a broader menu that spans breakfast, lunch, and dinner, with fresh catches of the day alongside sandwiches, burgers, and pasta. The owner Roger Sharp mentioned in this post encourages guests to review the official menu before a visit so they can plan their meal and confirm the serving options that interest them.
