Southern Piano Service's Blanton Bendall, a popular piano tuner and piano specialist, is offering advice on proper summer piano care. He helps his clients to ensure their piano's safety during the hot and humid summer months in Central Virginia.

Bendall provides a full range of piano services year round, particularly piano tuning, piano moving and storage, repair, and more. He works with clients throughout Central Virginia, including Ashland, Mechanicsville, Hanover, Henrico, Glen Allen, Goochland, Chesterfield, Midlothian, Bon Air, and the Fan.

He also works with clients in Oilville, Manakin Sabot, Montpelier, King's Charter, Hanover Country Club, Doswell, Rutherglen, Providence Forge, Doswell, Elmont, The Fan, New Kent County, and many more. His clients also include numerous churches and schools.

On his website, SouthernPianoService.com, Bendall offers a range of informative articles on how to care for pianos to keep them in top playing conditions. He just added an article with tips on how to keep a piano safe from excess heat and humidity during the hot summer months.

In fact, he offers to check on his clients' pianos and their environment during his piano tuning visits to make sure there are no problems with drafts, A/C vents, or excess temperature fluctuations or humidity.

"It's important to check on a piano during the summer, especially when it's as hot and humid as it's been this year," he says. "The idea is to avoid any damage by making sure the piano is in a climate controlled area without drafts or vents pointing at it. But if any damage should have occurred, it's important to deal with it right away to keep it contained."

Bendall is happy to talk with piano owners who wonder whether their piano needs extra care during the summer, especially if the keys feel a bit sticky or the sound is not quite right. He wants to ensure that his customers enjoy the summer - and their pianos.

If the piano should need moving, whether it's across the room, to another part of the house, or even across town, he can handle that as well with the help of his expert team of professional piano movers.

Bendall's phone number is 804-677-2416. The fastest way to get in touch with him is by sending him a text message. His summer piano care tips can be found on his website.
