Murray Masling from GulflanderXtreme, a business in Tinbeerwah, Queensland, Australia, is a man with a vision. Recently, he developed the Gulflander Xtreme boat loader, creating something unique that worked for his particular needs in easily loading a boat on the rooftop of a vehicle. Quickly realizing that others could benefit from the same product, he started marketing it. The boat loader is now proving to be incredibly popular and is taking Australia by storm.

Murray Masling himself says: "The boat loader that I developed is ideal for the avid fisher, or even wannabe avid fisher as well. It is a heavy duty loader, allowing up to 100kg/4mtr length, depending on the vehicle ratings. This means people can easily, safely, and quickly store their boat on their roof top. No lifting is required, and it can be operated by just one person, thanks to the electric remote controlled gearbox winch. I have now upgraded it so that it can function as a tent as well, meaning people can really take their fishing trips to the next level."

Masling wants to highlight a number of the specific boat loader benefits. These include the fact that it is compact aerospace/marine designed and custom built. He only uses high quality, lightweight, durable materials, all of which have been tested in some of the harshest 4WD conditions. It is created to be easy to operate by a single individual as well.

The boat loader is made from an alloy, and it can be custom adapted on request. It comes with a powerful winch gearbox to enable lifting of the boat. Designed and made in Australia, this boat loader is designed to withstand its harsh climate and road conditions.

"Our design allows you to really make use of the storage area under the boat, be it for the BT Combo (with roof top tent), the BMT Combo (with rack for motor/trailer/fuel tank), or simply storage for other items," adds Masling. "You can use the full area under the boat and still unload and load your boat quickly and easily."

There are other boat and motor loader benefits. They can be purchased together with a rooftop tent and/or tank rack. These items can also be added at a later stage.
