Pure Vitality Minerals, a health and beauty company based in Beaverton, OR, has announced the release of their new product. The Liquid Calcium Supplement is the latest addition to the company's stock. As always, it is available exclusively on Amazon and this can be found at <https://www.amazon.com/dp/B01HI25IE0>.

Keegan Allen from Pure Vitality Minerals says: "We are so excited about our new liquid calcium supplement. The product comes in an 8oz container, equating to 48 servings. It is a pure, natural, and unsweetened form, making it easy to swallow and, most importantly, easy to absorb. The product is designed to help in the development of strong bones, with many people using it as a remedy for osteoporosis."

People are advised to take just a teaspoon of the product twice a day. It can be used as an ionic calcium supplement because it provides 1000 mg of elemental calcium. Elemental calcium is the purest form of calcium, and the one that is required for optimal health. The Pure Vitality supplement is purified to incredibly high levels, reaching standards used in hospitals. It is also USP verified.

"Unlike calcium that is provided in pills or capsules, liquid calcium is much easier to swallow," adds Keegan

Allen. "This is why it is also perfect for young children, the elderly, and people who have gastrointestinal problems. Plus, because it is liquid, it is really easy for the body to absorb it. We have made sure that it isn't chalky, so it won't clump or thicken in the bottle either. Plus, it is free from preservatives and gelatin, so it is even suitable for vegetarians and vegans. And since it is unsweetened, diabetics can use it as well."

Pure Vitality Minerals is a respected company in the world of natural health supplements. Many of their products have received five star ratings on Amazon, and their latest, which is liquid calcium, is set to become equally popular. People are encouraged to view the product on Amazon and to check Pure Vitality's store front to find other health and nutritional products that they have available. The company is also always available to answer questions or address any issues.
