November 25, 2026

HOWELL, NJ - November 25, 2026 -
K.O. Plumbing & Heating is marking 12 years of continuous residential and commercial operation in Howell Township after launching in 2014 as a locally owned, family-operated contracting business. Operating under New Jersey plumbing license #13351, the company has maintained steady local operations over the past 12 years, providing mechanical maintenance, system repairs, and equipment installations for homeowners and commercial property managers across Howell Township and surrounding New Jersey communities. Reaching the 12-year milestone reflects the contractor's ongoing role as an independent, licensed trade business supporting the area's residential housing stock and local commercial facilities.

Across its 12-year history, K.O. Plumbing & Heating has structured its fieldwork around six core service divisions covering drains and piping, boiler and radiator systems, gas lines, water heaters, water treatment, and specialized plumbing. Within its drains and pipes division, technicians perform clogged drain cleaning, leak detection, sewer line cleaning, sewer line repair, pipe replacement, re-piping services, and burst pipe emergency repair. When evaluating clogged drains in Howell, NJ and beyond, technicians pair diagnostic leak detection and line assessments with targeted pipe or sewer repairs to address underlying blockages and aging supply or waste lines across residential homes and commercial buildings.

In its heating, hot water, and fuel gas divisions, the company handles residential and commercial boiler installation, boiler repair, and routine hydronic system maintenance alongside conventional storage water heater and condensing tankless water heater installation and repair. Technicians also carry out gas line installation, gas line repair, and gas line inspections under New Jersey plumbing license #13351 to maintain code compliance and operational safety for gas-fired appliances. Supporting both legacy radiator setups and modern condensing equipment allows the company to service properties spanning multiple decades of local residential and commercial construction.

Additional fieldwork encompasses water treatment systems and specialized plumbing projects tailored to local residential and commercial infrastructure. Through its water treatment division, the contractor installs whole-home water filtration systems and water softeners designed to remove contaminants and improve household water quality. Its specialized plumbing division covers commercial plumbing maintenance, sump pump installation and service, outdoor shower plumbing, comprehensive plumbing inspections, and general plumbing repair services. Across its mechanical installations and replacement work, K.O. Plumbing & Heating services and installs equipment manufactured by Kohler, Moen, Bradford White, Toto, and KD Navien.

Regular administrative and field operations run five days a week, from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, with weekend closures balanced by emergency and same-day dispatch for urgent mechanical failures. In its published service policies, K.O. Plumbing & Heating states that completed repairs and installations include a one-year labor warranty, though specific coverage terms, exclusions, and conditions are not itemized publicly on the company website and are provided directly to property owners when scheduling work. Maintaining both scheduled weekday appointments and urgent dispatch enables the contractor to respond to time-sensitive mechanical disruptions, from heating system failures to clogged drains in Howell, NJ, throughout the calendar year.
