Jump Around Party Rentals Offers 33 Christmas and Winter-Themed Inflatables for Greater Austin Holiday Events

November 25, 2026

Round Rock, Texas - November 25, 2026 -
Jump Around Party Rentals, an owner-operated party rental company based in Round Rock, is offering a collection of 33 Christmas- and winter-themed inflatables for the 2026 holiday season. The collection is aimed at church Christmas parties, school winter carnivals, HOA holiday events, corporate holiday parties, and family gatherings across the Greater Austin area.

The collection is built around large themed units that serve as the centerpiece of an event. The tallest is a 27-foot snowman bounce house. Other units include the 27-foot Polar Plunge Slide, the Candy Cane Combo, which pairs a bounce house with a slide that can be set up wet or dry, and the Christmas Combo Bounce House, a combined bounce area and slide measuring 16 feet high, 18 feet wide and 20 feet long. The company lists the Christmas Combo Bounce House for ages 3 and up with one adult monitor.

For larger crowds, the collection includes a 96-foot Christmas-themed obstacle course, which the company says can move 120 to 180 participants per hour in a relay format. That capacity is intended for school carnivals and community events where lines tend to build. The lineup also includes a Snow Maze, a Snow

The holiday collection also covers rides for teens and adults. The Mechanical Reindeer is a Christmas version of a mechanical rodeo ride, set inside an inflatable arena with operator-controlled speed and holiday music. The company lists it for ages 3 and up and says it can be set up indoors or outdoors on grass, concrete, asphalt or gym floors, using two standard 110-volt, 20-amp outlets on separate circuits. The collection also includes the Christmas Wipeout mechanical ride, a Silent Night snow machine, a snow-themed axe throw game and a 3D 360 photo booth.

Many of the units can be set up indoors, which gives churches, schools and businesses an option for gyms, fellowship halls and event spaces in December. The company asks customers planning an indoor event to confirm ceiling height in advance, since the taller units need more clearance. For outdoor December events with the Mechanical Reindeer, it recommends considering tent coverage.

Every rental is delivered, set up and taken down by the Jump Around Party Rentals crew, and the company says each holiday unit is cleaned between rentals. The company states that it is fully insured, and it provides a certificate of insurance at no charge to schools, churches, HOAs and venues that require vendor documentation. Service is available in English and Spanish.

In Texas, inflatable rides and mechanical bulls are regulated as amusement rides under the Amusement Ride Safety Inspection and Insurance Act. The Texas Department of Insurance sets the rules for the program, collects operators' insurance and inspection filings, and issues a compliance sticker for each ride that meets the state's requirements. The department does not inspect rides itself. Inspections are performed by inspectors approved by each operator's insurance company, and a ride's compliance sticker is valid for one year from the date of inspection. Jump Around Party Rentals states on its website that its inflatables are inspected annually and insured under these requirements.

The company advises customers to book holiday dates early, noting on its website that November and December weekends are often reserved months in advance. Customers can check availability for a specific date on the company's website or by phone.

Holiday deliveries cover Austin in Travis County; Cedar Park, Georgetown, Round Rock, Leander, Hutto, Pflugerville and Liberty Hill in Williamson County; and Killeen in Bell County.

Jump Around Party Rentals has been owner-operated since 2008 and works from a single warehouse in Round Rock. Outside the holiday season, the company rents bounce houses, combo bounce houses, water slides, obstacle courses, interactive inflatables, carnival rides, and mechanical bull rides for birthday parties, school events, church functions, and corporate gatherings.
