April 03, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -
Protiga Group in Walnut, California, has recently launched new designs onto the Amazon marketplace for their luminary bags. The company states that they now have big heart, duo heart, star and moon, and starburst designs available.

Sarah Dykes with Protiga Group says, "These luminary bags make amazing party decorations, and we've created designs that are sure to fill virtually every decorating need. No matter what celebration is, we've got a bag for that."

The company states that the luminary bags, which can be seen on Amazon at http://amzn.to/2nCNNp7, can be used to create pathway lights in dark areas and that the designs are perfect for birthday parties, weddings, or other celebrations. The company designs the luminary bags from eco-friendly cotton, which has been shown to be durable and recyclable. The bags measure just over six inches long, and are designed to be safe to use.

"We want our customers to trust that our bags are safe," says Sarah Dykes. "There are no worries of fire risk because they are made from completely non-flammable materials."

Sarah Dykes states that in addition, the bags do not produce flames and there is no smoke or carbon emission when using them. She points out that the company designed them specifically with safety in mind. The bags use LED or tea lights, depending on each customers desired brightness level and stones or sand can be placed in the bags to help hold them in place during windy days or nights.

The company states that the bags provide a good way to encourage creativity in children and that they can be used in arts and crafts, to make party bags, to create puppets or masks, and for any number of additional craft projects.

The bags were launched onto the Amazon marketplace a short while ago and the company states that they were so very well received that they felt additional designs were warranted. They have not indicated whether or not new designs will be added in the future. For now, customers can choose from the four designs available and the bags are currently available for purchase on the Amazon marketplace.
