Oasis Ahead is proud to announce that their recently launched product, the K-200 lawn sprinkler, has been very well received. The first reviews of the product have been coming in and these show that customers have been incredibly pleased with it. The garden sprinkler is currently exclusively available from Amazon.

Martin Holst from Oasis Ahead says: "We're very happy to hear that people have benefited so much from our garden sprinkler. We have aimed to develop something that is easy to use, highly efficient, and has good coverage. Clearly, our customers agree that this is what the product gives them. We love to hear back from our customers, so do continue to let us know what you think."

The sprinkler has been designed to meet any gardening need, whether it is part of the irrigation system, to water flowers or lawns, to cool hot surfaces down, or even to enable the kids and dogs to play with it. The sprinkler can be set to water between 0 and 360 degrees and also comes with a detachable shut off valve, allowing people to turn the water off at the sprinkler, rather than at the faucet.

While the sprinkler is currently available exclusively from Amazon, the company also has a fully up to date website with explanations and hints and tips on how to use the device. This is something that customers have particularly appreciated. Once customer says, "All adjustments are easy to make to put the exact amount of water where you want it. Weighted base for stability and turnoff switch on the sprinkler are big benefits." Another customer says, "...is made very well and is very durable. I have dropped it a few times and the kids have kicked it around and it still works great."

The sprinkler can be used for both long and short range watering. Additionally, multiple sprinklers can be connected to it thanks to the connector thread, thereby enabling people to have an even larger coverage area. The company is so sure that people will love the sprinkler that they have included a 60 day money back guarantee.
