Weatherford, TX based company, Cutting Horse Training Online, has announced that leading cutting horse trainer, and the sport's highest earner, Phil Rapp, will be joining their expert panel of trainers online. The $8.4 million dollar champion is a passionate and dedicated cutter who loves to give back to the sport. Phil recently coached a group of keen cutters at a clinic hosted by the National Cutting Horse Association, which was sponsored by the Waco Bend Ranch on April 30, 2015. Now, Phil can be seen on CHTO's website in a three-part series, where he coaches amateurs and non-pros on how to make great cuts and improve scores on their judging cards. The company invites those interested in watching the videos to visit them at https://cuttinghorsetrainingonline.com

"The $8-million man shares his experience and knowledge and gives excellent tips and advice while schooling cutters at the NCHA Cutting Academy. Phil Rapp took time out of his hectic training schedule to help riders master the skill of making cuts and showing. Everyone, members or not, can watch sample clips of Phil reveal some of the secrets that have helped his own success," said owner Duncan Steele-Park.

Cutting is a performance horse sport where horse and rider must use all their skills to separate a cow from its herd, without the rider using their reins. While it originated on the open plains in early ranching days, cutting is now a popular sport in states like Texas, Oklahoma and California. Cutting Horse Training Online is an official NCHA partner, and the company has made it clear that they have a real passion for providing an exceptional educational platform to cutters of all levels, wherever they are, whenever they need it. They offer 350+ online videos and other specialty content on their website, and invite those who enjoy this content to follow them through their social media account at https://www.facebook.com/Cuttinghorsetrainingonlinecom as well.

Having Phil Rapp as their newest trainer on the site is something that Cutting Horse Training Online has been very excited about. Phil and his wife, Mary, operate Rapp Ranch, garner, Tx, which can be seen at http://rappranch.com/index.htm

"Phil is one of 'the best of the best' in an illustrious bunch of cutting horse trainers," said Duncan. He added that Phil's tips and techniques will help new and more experienced cutters learn more about how to be successful in this sport.

Duncan said Phil's video series will make a big difference to the competitiveness of those CHTO members who really apply what he teaches.

"Phil explains why stepping forward is the key to making great cuts. He gives all of the participants at the NCHA Cutting Academy held in Fort Smith Ak sponsored by Waco Bend, great advice on the little things they could change whist working their horses out of the herd," he said.

Riders who enjoy Phil's videos, and other content on the Cutting Horse Training Online website, can register for the company's newsletter, or become a site member. Joining the site allows visitors the chance to enjoy countless streaming videos on all aspects of cutting horses, from performance and health, to facilities and tack, and educate themselves through articles and publications. CHTO is also set to introduce an exciting new service that will allows members to get personal one-on-one video coaching with the top trainer of their choice. The company invites individuals with questions about the site, cutting, or membership to contact them using the communication information available online.
