December 13, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

WineToShip.com offers an inventory of fine wines and spirits online and in two retail stores in Pensacola. The inventory is one of the largest and most comprehensive in the industry.

Pensacola FL: Wine to Ship is pleased to announce that it has been offering specialty spirits and wine online for more than a dozen years. The online location is matched by two retail stores located in Pensacola, Florida. The wine managers and consultants are experts in the wine industry, offering great advice at any time and for any occasion. The shopping experience is designed to be pleasurable, thanks to the wine authorities and large selection available online.

Customers who are looking for a location to buy red wine can visit the online retailer (<http://www.winetoship.com/wine/>) which has a large variety of spirits and can ship worldwide. The tremendous experience of the staff and the focus on customer satisfaction has meant a strong reliability factor when purchasing from the online store. In addition to the red wine selection, there is a large inventory of white wine.

According to a spokesperson for the shop, "Our collection of wine and spirits (<http://www.winetoship.com/spirits/>) is one of the largest and most comprehensive in the industry, giving you a wide range of choices no matter what you're looking for. We carry everything from the most common brands to some of the world's most elite names in wine and spirits. The experienced wine managers and staff are willing to assist with questions or concerns which customers may have."

The choice of beers is another category available online at <http://www.winetoship.com/beer/>. The beers are both domestic and imported. There also flavored malt beverages and coolers. Both Belgian and U.S. beers from various parts of the country are available for purchase. For any occasion over the holidays or throughout the year, the right drinks are available for every occasion. Customers can ask questions of the experts to learn the best choices. The shipping is prompt and safe to ensure that the package arrives in time for the occasion.
