February 17, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

As people live longer and are encouraged to remain independent in their own home for as long as possible, the needs of the population have been changing steadily over the past few years. This has translated into a huge boom in the home mobility solutions industry, so much so that many people struggle to understand what they actually need, and where they should get it from. ABLE Home Mobility Solutions, a company in Corona, CA, has therefore launched their YouTube channel, which can be accessed at <https://goo.gl/Bxy10A>, to empower people to make an informed decision in terms of their mobility needs.

Jonathan Musoke from ABLE Home Mobility Solutions says: "As with any major purchase, buying a motorized wheelchair or power scooter should be the result of making an informed decision. From knowing the difference between 'turning radiuses' to knowing which accessories better enhance your user experience, our goal is to offer you a resource that helps you make the best possible decision for your specific circumstances."

Through their channel, ABLE Home Mobility Solutions addresses the obvious and not so obvious questions. Their goal is to match the concerns of real users with recommendations, so that people can choose the right motorized wheelchair or power scooter. Through the product review videos on the company's YouTube channel, people can access the features and benefits of various motorized wheelchairs and power scooters, exploring the details of each product. This information also justifies the recommendations that the company makes.

"Some of the products we discuss on our channel include power wheelchairs, electric wheelchairs, mobility scooters, and accessories for power wheelchairs and mobility scooters," adds Jonathan Musoke. "We will add information regularly, also expanding into different mobility products."

Mobility scooters and powered wheelchairs are mainly used by the elderly community, and particularly the Baby Boom Generation, who are now reaching old age. At the same time, the information provided by ABLE Home Mobility Solutions can be highly beneficial for those people who struggle with disabilities, or have other mobility issues, regardless of their age. The company aims to be a trusted resource for people who want to make the right consumer decisions.
