Reno, Nevada based cosmetics company, Cardea Luxe Skin Care, has announced the release of a new video which features their under eye cream. The company states that the video outlines the benefits of their Radiance Under Eye Cream and explains various ways to avoid under eye circles as well as fine lines and wrinkles around the eyes.

Joseph Meli, a spokesperson for the company says, "We wanted to help men and women alike to better utilize the ingredients in our Radiance eye cream. The video explains how to use the cream and goes over various things that you can do to help see better results."

The natural & organic under eye cream from the company contains no harsh chemicals or other ingredients that may cause allergic reactions according to the company. The video touches briefly on the ingredients used to create the cream and offers advice for achieving younger and healthier looking skin.

"We use natural ingredients like retinol and aloe vera to create a cream that will diminish those under eye dark circles that many fight with as they grow older," Meli states. "We wanted people to get a good overview of the Cardea Luxe cream and why it's such a great option for fighting the signs of aging."

Meli states that the company's product also contains antioxidants and peptides which help to regenerate new skin cells. This results into healthier and younger looking skin. He says that it also contains natural plant and herb extracts like jojoba oils to help moisturize skin as well as sea fennel wax and green tee extracts which soothe and heal skin that has been ravaged by weather and other harmful conditions.

In the video, Meli outlines how to effectively use the Cardea Luxe Radiance Eye Cream to achieve younger looking skin. He states that applying the cream before bed helps to repair damage while sleeping and that applying it first thing in the morning can help to protect the skin throughout the day. The video goes over the proper way to apply and outlines various other benefits such as using the cream on the neck area. Those interested can see more of the video on the company's YouTube channel or on their website.
