Modern American Dentistry recently sponsored the Lunch for Smiles Event benefitting The Children's Dental Center.

Dr. Gould, an award-winning California dentist, recently funded the Lunch for Smiles event on May 12, 2015, benefitting The Children's Dental Center (TCDC). Participation in this event is in line with Modern American Dentistry's commitment to the community and has helped earned them a reputation as one of the best dentists in California.

Lunch for Smiles took place on May 12, 2015 from 11:00am-1:30pm on Pennsylvania Street in Santa Monica, Calif. The unique location was chosen so that patients of Modern American Dentistry's Santa Monica location, including those that work at Yahoo, Hulu, Redbull, The Honest Company, and other Silicon Beach companies, could participate in the fundraiser.

The Children's Dental Center provides services, education, and dental treatment to dentally underserved children and their caregivers throughout the Greater Los Angeles area. The event was a great success for Modern American Dentistry and the dental practice received generous donations for TCDC. Modern American Dentistry provided the White Rabbit food truck, the favorite of Jessica Alba, CEO of The Honest Company, and accepted donations for meals starting at $1.

Other participants in the event were Sandy Masori, known as the Martha Stewart of balloons, CEO and founder of Balloon Utopia, who provided colorful and unique balloon creations. Also, Hitch Radio, provided customized music for the event, and made a donation to TCDC for each free download of their ground breaking instant messaging radio app.

“Giving back to our community members who need it the most is an extremely rewarding part of our jobs,” says Dr. Joel Gould, “Lunch for Smiles was a tremendous success for us this year and we are so glad we could participate by providing a food truck and accepting donations.”

Dr. Gould and his team provide a complete range of necessary dental care, including general, cosmetic, and restorative services. Modern American Dentistry believes that visiting the dentist should be fast, efficient, and convenient. It is for that reason that Modern American Dentistry provides UBER round-trip transportation to their Santa Monica patients to their Wilshire location.
