Milton, FL. - The law firm of Gross and Schuster is pleased to announce the addition of two new law partners, Rhett Gross and Tyler Gross, both personal injury attorneys in Milton. Both attorneys graduated from the Florida State University College of Law and worked as Assistant Public Defenders before transitioning to civil practice. They have been practicing personal injury law for several years, handling a wide range of injury cases.

Gross and Schuster was founded by Terence A. Gross almost 40 years ago, and has since successfully resolved thousands of personal injury claims and lawsuits for its clients. The lawyers at Gross and Schuster develop close working relationships with each client in an effort to maximize recoveries. The firm focuses on education and communication in an effort to increase client awareness and better understand each client?s legal rights and options.

Rhett and Tyler have had the pleasure of learning from two very experienced personal injury attorneys.

Terence Gross and Charles Schuster, the founding partners, are both board-certified specialists in civil trial law by the Florida Bar Association. Both Mr. Gross and Mr. Schuster are respected Milton car accident lawyers having more than 80 years of combined legal experience. Terence Gross has tried more than 100 jury trials to verdict and is AV rated by Martindale Hubble.

The addition of two new partners brings the core team up to four attorneys. Each of the attorneys brings a diverse skill set to the table. With the addition of Rhett Gross and Tyler Gross the firm is able to handle more personal injury and wrongful death cases resulting from automobile accidents, truck accidents, boat accidents, dog bites, nursing home neglect, and premises liability. They also handle hurricane claims and other insurance disputes.

?Our focus is, and has always been, on our clients. This is a major reason why we have new lawyers joining us. With their presence, clients will benefit from multiple legal opinions and will always have access to an attorney at our firm. Ultimately, this is a part of the framework that enables us to protect accident victims against powerful insurance companies,? says Terence Gross.

Clients have appreciated the additions as well. One Google user said, ?[Tyler Gross] stood firm on my behalf. He was diligent and capable. I am so grateful to him: not only did I get a fair settlement, he was, I am convinced, able to negotiate 10 times what I would have managed. I believe in Tyler Gross? integrity, honesty and strength of character. If I ever have need of an attorney, I would trust him with anything.? Another Google user recommended Rhett Gross and stated, ?[Rhett] did amazing work and got my settlement done smoothly and quickly. He stayed in contact with me throughout the whole process with great feedback and explanations of what was happening. As well as his paralegals working side by side with him and me to keep each other informed of what was happening. Thanks to him I can now get the treatment needed to continue the healing process.?

Attorney Charlie Schuster reiterated that the firm sets its core values around the client. ?The most important thing that I?ve learned as a personal injury lawyer is that every client is unique,? says Charles Schuster. ?Every client has different needs when they get injured. In a case of an injury, a lawyer can work with a broken arm, but a laborer can?t. The nature of the injury is the same, but the circumstances vary. That?s something insurance companies seem to have a difficult time understanding - you must look at the individual. It is our goal to understand the fundamental needs of each client and provide them with the best legal advice and representation possible.?
