

Sean K. Quigley, CPA Enhances Business with Development of New Website

January 04, 2017

January 04, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Pensacola, Fla. ? Sean K. Quigley, a Certified Public Accountant in Pensacola and partner of Brown Thornton Pacenta & Co., is proud to announce the development of his new website. Quigley believes that this website will provide an opportunity for ample business growth, better client interaction, and ease of access to his services in Pensacola.

?I wanted to remain visible not only in the community but on the web as well,? Sean K. Quigley said. ?That?s where people are gathering their information from these days, so I must ensure that my services are accessible to those online.?

Quigley, who joined Brown Thornton Pacenta & Co. back in 2005, has garnered over 20 years of experience as a CPA. His services delve deep into the accounting field, ranging from tax planning and preparation to compiling and auditing financial statements.

As the city of Pensacola continues to grow, it?s Quigley?s strongest goal to maintain a favorable presence in the community and to continue to meet the needs of clients daily. The new website will be a catalyst for his success, and on an even larger scale the success of Brown Thornton Pacenta & Co.

"It's just the best way to ensure my clients and potential clients have a way to see what I do and who I am, without having to take a drive downtown," Quigley said.
