

GKIC-Tampa Announces Monthly Business Growth Meetings For Tampa Bay Business Owners

June 09, 2015

June 09, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

GKIC-Tampa, a business in Tampa Bay, FL, is hosting monthly meetings for business owners in the Tampa Bay Area. The areas that are being targeted are Tampa, Sarasota and Bradenton, FL. The monthly meetings are designed to help Tampa Bay business owners come together, network, learn from each other and, ultimately, improve their profitability.

"We wanted to offer Tampa Bay business owners an opportunity to come together in a fun and entertaining way in order to help them improve their business processes", says Al Mendoza from GKIC-Tampa.com. "These meetings are an opportunity to learn how to improve leads, close more sales and grow their business, while at the same time creating fantastic networking opportunities."

The event, known as the "One-on-One With GKIC". It is hosted by Alvaro Mendoza, who is a business growth expert. He informs members about direct response marketing, which was developed by GKIC and how these strategies can help to increase Tampa business growth. Attendees learn how to create marketing campaigns and advertising pieces that are affordable, measurable and above all effective.

To encourage more business owners in the Tampa Bay area to attend, the first meeting can be attended for free. It is a three hour event that is held once a month, and GKIC is confident that those who attend one meeting will attend more as well. Indeed, their experience has proven this. GKIC meetings are held in other parts of the US as well, and they have proven to be incredibly popular.

"We want to offer Tampa Bay business owners the opportunity to see how much they can learn from these meetings completely free", adds Alvaro Mendoza. "During their first meeting, they will be able to follow various special presentations offered by our own growth experts. Furthermore, we offer hot seats for Tampa Bay entrepreneurs, who will receive true VIP treatment. The meetings are also an opportunity to meet the GKIC team and have any questions answered. Most importantly, the result is that business owners walk away with the knowledge and experience they need to achieve sustainable Tampa business growth."

Dates, times and locations for the monthly events are updated through the GKIC-Tampa.com website on a regular basis. By becoming a GKIC member, businesses can learn how to once again become motivated to succeed in their market. They will be provided with timely marketing strategies and cutting edge information in order to achieve this. Many of those who have joined their local GKIC chapters have reported that in the year since starting to attend the monthly meetings, they have achieved more than in the lifetime of their business.

GKIC-Tampa hopes to welcome an increasing number of Tampa businesses to their membership list. This is because they believe their expertise can assist improve the local economy and the profitability of the businesses themselves. Furthermore, being a member of a local chapter means having the opportunity to join a community of business owners who can all learn from each other.

Registration for the event is current open and can be completed online.
