July 04, 2019 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Chilliwack, British Columbia based All About Painting recently announced free painting quotes for homeowners within the community. The company hopes this will encourage members of the community who are considering giving a new look to their house to take that crucial step and get started. Notably, with All About Painting, customers will be able to begin refreshing their homes at the most affordable prices in the area.

Rickey Rain, owner of the company, says, "Requesting a painting quote is the only way to begin your desired house project. At All About Painting Chilliwack, we know how annoying it can be to have someone at your house doing any job of this kind, so we make every effort to make the painting process as convenient for you as possible, in a timely manner. We are able to do this without compromising the quality of our work, as delivering a long-lasting and high-quality painting job is our foremost priority."

All About Painting explains that, after requesting a free estimate, a prospective customer will be contacted by Rain directly, who will discuss the details of their project and may then determine to proceed with an examination. The purpose of this first meeting is to produce a completion time estimate for the painting job.

The company will examine the integrity of the house?s existing paint job and, based on this and the area that the customer needs to cover, a budget estimate will then be produced.

This is a crucial part of the Chilliwack House Painting Contractor?s painting process, and it is an aspect that many other inexperienced contractors overlook. If handled improperly, this often leads to the quick deterioration of the painting job, which in turn causes lumps in the covered area. Rain explains, "The evaluation is one of the most important parts of a painting job, closely followed by the painting preparation. This is because even if I were to fully paint a house to an outstanding result, the painting would not last if the proper evaluation into the necessary preparations were not done."

Rain further asserts that, "We guarantee the best price in Chilliwack. If you have a quote from another Chilliwack painter that?s better than our price, we?ll beat it to get your business.? He explains that painting is what he enjoys the most, and he wants to spread the happiness that comes from completing one's projects. To achieve this, he believes in making his services as accessible as possible.

This unique approach and commitment have earned All About Painting glowing customer reviews, and they are often praised for being reliable, convenient and quick. In a recent review, Joseph Martin says, "When I needed a Chilliwack House Painting Service, Rickey Rain came to my rescue. He was very professional and did the job within a couple of days, which is very impressive since other companies stated it would take at least a full week to complete the amount of work that needed to be done. The workmanship was great and, and I can easily see this paint job lasting for years and years."

Catherine Fox wrote another review in which she says, "I was so happy with the work of All About Painting from a couple of years ago, that I decided to hire them again. The painting job was still good and could last for another couple of years; we just wanted to change the appearance to something that fits our recent indoor renovation. Rickey does an excellent job, and he always sticks to the schedule. On top of that, he is very helpful and makes sure we are completely satisfied before he calls the job finished. For anyone looking for an affordable painting contractor in Chilliwack, I recommend All About Painting."

All About Painting is a Chilliwack certified painting contractor, which means the company has met all the regulations necessary to work responsibly in the area.
