

AC Man Houston Is Running A Summer HVAC Special

March 03, 2017

March 03, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

AC Man Houston, an HVAC company in Houston, TX, is proud to announce that they will be running a summer HVAC special. The company says that they cater to the Greater Houston area, and their customer service and affordable pricing make them the go to HVAC experts in the area. Their summer special is already attracting a lot of attention.

Don from AC Man Houston says: "Get your peace of mind with AC Man's no failure all summer guarantee. Get your A/C checkup done before March 31st and if your unit fails this year, AC Man will apply the cost of your AC checkup toward the repair. When scheduling an appointment, mention 'all summer guarantee' to receive this offer."

As indicated the company's website and Facebook page, the company offers a wealth of services to both the residential and commercial market. Besides AC repair and servicing, they also offer furnace repair and servicing, as well as a wealth of other solutions. The company is a certified American dealer and takes great pride in their professional attitude. All staff members are fully trained to install, repair, and maintain HVAC systems.

The company is popular across the Houston area. "Honest work," says Shane L. on the Facebook page.

"Fast response. Right price. I have recommended Don to many friends. Always worth it."

Besides offering extensive services to the Greater Houston area, the company is also keen to empower people to look after their HVAC system themselves. This is why they also encourage people to look into a free AC inspection. Sam Willard, head of sales at AC Man Houston, says: "There is no reason why air conditioning units should not last for as long as 10-15 years. However, if you feel that your air conditioner is not performing to its potential, it could be due to a number of common reasons such as the air filter becoming dirty and choked, and the external unit obstructed by plants, leaves and other debris. If you regularly maintain your air conditioner, it will not only cool better but also save you a lot of money by reducing power consumption and by eliminating breakdown repairs."
