KJ Essentials has announced the release of a map of baseball stadiums where the National League and American League teams are located. The release is just in time for the start of spring training and the opening of the baseball season. The company states that the map gives fans the opportunity to become familiar as to where the various teams are located, follow their own team as they travel around to play games, or track stadiums as they visit them.

"We offer a wide range of sports collectibles and fan gear," says Kelly Eisen with KJ Essentials. "For a limited time, we are offering free shipping on the stadium map. It's a gorgeous full color stadium map. We felt that with baseball season just getting started, this would be a wonderful time to draw attention to the map and how perfect it is for any avid Major League Baseball fan."

The baseball stadium map offers a look at American and National League baseball park locations. It includes team logos and images of each of the ballparks' city skylines. The map is 20 by 30 inches, and has pre-drilled holes on the back for secure mounting on any wall. It is mounted on faux wood for a rustic look and allows fans to track the baseball stadiums that they have visited or to dream of parks that they want to visit in the future.

In addition to sports collectibles, KJ Essentials also offers a number of kitchen gadgets and home decor items. Eisen states that all of their products are quality made from the best possible materials and says that the baseball park map is the perfect wall hanging for avid baseball fans, particularly those who tend to have everything from their favorite team. She states that instead of jerseys or foam fingers, the ballpark map makes a unique and highly cherished gift idea for anyone who loves the game and who has a particularly favorite team. Those interested in seeing the map or in learning more about the company and the products that they offer can visit them online or they can see the map in action by watching a YouTube video at <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=gVqH1riae-E&feature=youtu.be>.
