

Growpetz Announces Launch Of New Retractable Dog Leash For Small Dogs

August 06, 2015

August 06, 2015 -
Growpetz, a family owned pet care business, recently launched a retractable dog leash designed for small dogs. The product is available on Amazon through http://www.amazon.com/dp/B012FF0CSM. The leash is the second product in a line of retractable dog leashes that the company has created.

Keith Kruger, from Growpetz, says, "After successfully launching our retractable dog leash 3 months ago for medium sized dogs, we have now introduced our retractable dog leash for small dogs, weighing up to 33 lbs. The features and benefits of this leash are exactly the same as our previous model."

The leash has an innovative new design that enables dog walkers to quickly and easily switch between pause and lock modes. This ensures that the dog is always close by and kept under control. This is made even easier thanks to the handle, which allows for a very comfortable hold.

The leash itself uses a nylon belt and it is held together in a durable plastic case. The snap hook is chrome plated, which enhances its durability. Furthermore, it has a reflective surface, which means dog walking in the dark becomes much easier. It also features a retractable mechanism that allows the dog to feel like it is free even when on a leash.

The reviews on both the previous, medium sized dog leash and the new smaller sized dog leash have been coming in quickly, and they are all highly positive. "Until now, I never put much thought into how uncomfortable a "normal" leash was for chico or myself," says Teeheira Goodwyn. "When using this leash I immediately noticed how "free" my dog felt. In my HONEST opinion I say that IT IS worth the investment for you and your pet. From the comfort, to the ease of use... this leash exceeded my expectations and has set the bar in my book for dog leashes overall!"

The company prides itself on the quality of its products. As a result, these products are also being offered with a 'happiness guarantee'. Anyone who is not completely happy with the dog leash can have their money returned and receive a no questions asked refund.
