

Growpetz Introduces Amazing 3 In 1 Pet Grooming Tool

August 06, 2015

August 06, 2015 -
Growpetz, a family-owned pet care business, has recently launched its 3 in 1 pet grooming tool on Amazon. The details can be found on the webpage, http://www.amazon.com/dp/B00KPRWNYE. This deshedding tool can be used for both cats and dogs. And because of the interchangeable blades, which come in 3 sizes, this tool can be used, whatever the size of a person's pet. In addition, the interchangeable blades reduce the shedding time for pets by 90 percent. What this means is that pets will no longer be shedding their loose hair all over the house.

Keith Kruger from Growpetz says, "We love our pets and we know other people love theirs, too. Pets are true members of the family, which means they deserve all the love and care they can get. That is the philosophy behind all our products as well: they must be safe to use and enhance the health and happiness of the animal."

Since having been initially released, the pet grooming tool has received numerous positive reviews. "The fact that this is 3 sizes in one is amazing," says Susie Sunshine. "I need all 3! The small for my tiny shih tzu, the medium for my extra fluffy, large and in charge cat, and the large for my German Shep. Love that I didn't have to buy a tool for each. It got the job done pretty quick and I can tell my furbabies feel much better after getting all that extra hair off. (Also very handy for cleaning up the stray hair on the carpet after shaving and trimming my dogs fur)."

Growpetz' guiding principle is that its customers should be completely happy with the products, as should their pets. Judging by the numerous positive reviews the company has received so far, it is fair to say that they are achieving their objective. In fact, the company's other product, the retractable dog leash, is proving to be equally popular and has also received a huge range of positive reviews. The company hopes that their customers will continue to let them know about their experiences with their products.
