Your SEO Secret, based in King of Prussia, Pennsylvania, has explained the benefit of press releases for businesses. The company is a provider of press release services, specializing in white label services to web design agencies (WDA) and web development companies (WDC). They point out that the benefits of Your SEO Secret PR services can be subdivided into three categories: name recognition and build up of authority; lead generation; and SEO advantages.

YourSEOSecret.com provides not just PR services but also various SEO services, including Google Maps / Google My Business ranking, paid search, business directory citation listings, content marketing and an array of other private label SEO services.

Will Kenderdine, a spokesperson for Your SEO Secret says, ?There are many benefits of press releases for an online business. But these can be grouped into three categories. First, they can help in establishing name recognition and authority. This is because people or businesses that are featured on news sites are often perceived by people as having higher authority. This means that the content on the business? site are believed because they trust the word of anyone with higher authority on a particular subject.?

Another important benefit of a press release is that it can help with lead generation. Potential customers of a business tend to read the news and therefore there is a good chance they will read the business? press releases regarding products or services. Thus, the more releases that such potential customers see, the more they become familiar with a product or service, and when it comes time for them to purchase such a product or service, they will remember that particular business that they have read about.

And finally, a key benefit of a press release is that it can help with SEO. This is because the publication of the release on various media sites will result in the establishment of back links that are regarded by the search engines as essential in their algorithms for determining the rankings of sites for particular keywords in the search engine results pages.
