JackpotCandles.com in Amherst, New York, a manufacturer of soy candles, reports that their Ocean Breeze scent is the most popular, and for a number of reasons. Jackpot Candles provides jar candles that are hand poured and made from 100 percent pure, natural soy. The candles contain jewelry pieces, which are retrievable once they have burned down, and some of these pieces have appraisal values of up to $5,000.

The jar candles come in 16 ounce sizes and each contains earrings, rings, or other jewelry pieces which are wrapped in foil pouches and hidden in the candles. Jackpot Candles offers an instant appraisal feature on their website for customers who want to see what their jewelry prizes may be valued at once they reveal them. The company states that jewelry is appraised at anywhere between $15 and $5,000, and customers never know what they may get, although they are asked for ring sizes and preferences when purchasing candles, as the company tries to provide customers with something that they know they will appreciate.

Their Ocean Breeze jar candles are a customer favorite. The scent promotes harmony, balance, and serenity, according to Nicole Szymanski, spokesperson for Jackpot Candles. She says, "The fresh fragrance of this scented candle will fill your home with relaxing tones of clear skies, sparkling water, and sandy beaches. Bring tranquility to your space with the soft glow and pure scent of our Ocean Breeze."

Customers appreciate that the scent helps them to hold on to summer for a longer time and to occasionally escape from reality with the relaxing scent. Plus, there's the jewelry that is included in each candle.

"This is my favorite by far," states Rebecca. "I love taking long baths with my Ocean Breeze candle nearby, especially during winter when the sun seems so far away."
