Simply Charmed, a Libertyville, IL based supplier of magnetic wine charms, gift bags and other accessories and gift items, is pleased to announce that they have a new set of St. Patrick?s Day Irish Wine Charms. Anyone looking for themed wine charms to celebrate the holiday or deliver as a gift will be pleased to know that the charms are available on Amazon as well as Simply Charmed?s website. The charms are a thoughtful and useful gift to give this St Patrick?s and, like the charm suppliers other wine charms, will likely prove to be very popular among celebrants of the holiday.

Magnetic wine glass charms by Simply Charmed are made with strong magnets that stick through the glasses they are attached to. This makes them very secure, and they do not come off until they are removed. They are easy to clean and store and are, if properly used and kept out of the reach of children and magnet-sensitive devices, very safe to use.

The charms are the latest in Simply Charmed?s line of wine charms, which work with two small magnets to attach to any type of glass (from traditional wine glasses to stemless glasses, beer mugs, cocktail glasses and more). With St Patrick?s Day approaching, the charms make an excellent choice for a hostess gift or to simply help identify whose glass is whose during the celebrations. Each set contains six unique Irish-themed charms.

Simply Charmed has been charming their customers with their unique themed wine charms for over 10 years. They have charms for every season and holiday imaginable, from Christmas to Valentines to St. Patrick?s Day. One can find a wine charm for almost any occasion at Simply Charmed and, this season, one can shop St Patricks Day on Amazon for a wide variety of themed items from Simply Charmed.

A family owned business that locally produces handcrafted magnetic wine charms and other items, Simply Charmed is known to always deliver great quality and consistency in all their products, much to the delight of all their customers. ?Magnetic wine charms, or wine glass markers or cocktail identifiers, whatever the name, are a fun new entertaining concept for people that are done with those charms that dangle and clink around the stems of glasses,? says the company. ?They are for people that like to provide the ?wow? factor when entertaining, or for those that seek out fun new gifts for friends or hostesses. They work on stemless wine glasses and add a touch of elegance.?

Simply Charmed has a number of other products for a variety of tastes, occasions and uses, including wine stoppers, wine gift bags and a lot of other handcrafted items. The company also places a great emphasis on customer service, and many of their clients have noted how the company regularly steps in to replace unsatisfactory purchases. Their products are almost universally well received, with many of the company?s clients leaving excellent reviews on Amazon. Their Swarovski crystal charms, for example, are incredibly popular among customers.

?I ordered the charms for a Red wine and Popcorn Scandal party I threw. I didn't want my guest to mix up their glasses, and this did the trick,? says an Amazon review. ?I really loved these charms. Everyone was so impressed by them, and they were a great conversation piece. They worked on my wine glasses and my plastic shatterproof glasses as well. The magnets are super strong! Those babies are not falling off! Unfortunately, some of the charms/gems came loose. When I contacted the company, they were so gracious and sent me replacement charms. I give 5-Stars for great customer service and an awesome product!?

Another review calls the charms a ?great item for glassware,? stating, ?I am sure my guests will love these. It makes it easy to remember which glass is yours. It is great that they can be removed and used again.?
