Burlingame, CA company Wanderlust is dedicated to providing people who like to engage in athletic activities, such as walking, hiking, and running, with the greatest amount of comfort and protection. As such, they are proud to announce that they have recently released a new line of compression socks. What makes these socks unique, other than the high quality that is synonymous with the Wanderlust brand, is that they are equally suitable for everyday wear.

A Team Wanderlust representative says: "Our compression socks are hugely multifunctional, which is why they are recommended by doctors, nurses, teachers, pilots, travelers, truckers, factory workers, and expecting mothers everywhere. They are designed to give just the right amount of compression, leading to instant pain relief."

The new Wanderlust compression stockings have gone through a lengthy period of research and development to ensure that they provide the appropriate amount of graduated compression. This is 25-30 mmHG at foot and ankle, 15-20 at leg and calf, and 10-15 under the knee. Compression helps to prevent and provide relief from cramps, aches, fatigue, spider and varicose veins, clots, deep vein thrombosis, lactic acid build up, and restless legs syndrome.

Despite having been made available only recently, the socks are already attracting a lot of attention, and those who have tried them have been highly positive in describing their experiences. They enjoy the fact that the socks are easy to put on and take off and that the material is soft and comfortable. They noted that the socks were perfect for walking, working, sitting, standing, traveling, or exercising for endurance, recovery, and comfort. In fact, the socks can even be safely used at night while sleeping, to help promote circulation and blood flow.

"I purchased three pairs of these socks for my husband. He fractured his ankle a few years ago and if he wears regular socks to work his leg gets extremely swollen. These socks have been very effective. No more swelling & he says his legs feel great..." says an Amazon customer.

The support socks have been designed with comfort and functionality in mind. They are also highly durable and can be machine washed again and again. In fact, Wanderlust is so convinced that people will be happy with their purchase, that they offer a 100% satisfaction guarantee.
