Simply Charmed, a Libertyville, Illinois based online store that supplies wine charms and other trinkets, would like to announce the availability of their fast and free domestic shipping. Since Amazon is currently not prioritizing non-essential shipments, the fastest way to get wine accessories and gifts from Simply Charmed is to order directly from the company itself. All of their handcrafted wine charms are available for shipping from their studio, which is located in Libertyville, IL. The company produces all of their items locally.

?We understand that, right now, people aren't getting together for large parties, but sending a set to a friend and having a virtual wine party or a virtual Netflix viewing party with wine in hand might put a fun spin on what is going on right now with social distancing," says a representative from Simply Charmed. The company is working to get their products to customers across the country as quickly as possible during these trying times, and next day business shipping is guaranteed. For free domestic shipping from Simply Charmed, one need only visit the company?s website and order from them directly.

Simply Charmed produces and sells high quality, handmade wine charms for every occasion. Their magnetic charms are a fun and entertaining concept for people who want a less clunky alternative to the traditional wine charms that dangle off the side of the glass. They work with a variety of different glass types, from tall stemmed wine glasses to stemless and more. They are generally used as a gift or to add a touch of elegance to parties and dinners.

?Although our wine charms appear to stick to the glass, they are really sticking through the glass,? says Simply Charmed on their site. ?One rare-earth magnet is adhered to the charm, another resides inside the glass, holding the charm securely in place. They will not come off until you take them off. Most people use our magnetic wine glass charms up on the rim of the glass where everyone can see them, but if you prefer, and there is some slope to the foot of your glass, then place the charm down on the foot. So, if you want to dazzle your drink without the clink, give these wine magnets a try. They also work well on martini glasses, margarita glasses and pint beer glasses. Enjoy and salute!?

The company produces magnetic wine charms for every season and holiday imaginable, from Christmas to Valentine?s Day to Easter. Their charms feature unique and interesting designs that are guaranteed to get party guests talking, and which act as an excellent gift on any occasion. The charms are specifically designed to add a touch of personality to each glass, on top of being a useful and fun way to tell glasses apart at an event.

Many of their products regularly receive excellent reviews from customers. A review of their holiday charms from an Amazon customer states, ?All of our guests had great fun selecting and using the charms. I was initially worried that the inner magnet would fall off in someone's drink and get accidentally swallowed. That fear was unfounded. In fact, these magnets are so strong that it's difficult to get the charms apart if they come in close proximity to each other. However, that started loads of laughter from our guests as well. Nicely done! I have ordered more in different styles for our other parties throughout the year.?

Another client on the same platform shares, ?These were such a hit at my last two events. No more sharpies on solo cups! The magnets are super strong and will not get lost in your beverage. They won't get separated in drawers either. They are cute on wine glasses, and kids love them as well! I cannot wait to buy more in different styles.?
