Conversion Strategies, a web design company serving Chicago, IL, has announced that it has recently partnered with Fiancee Jewelry to help the custom jewelry store build and improve its online presence. The first step was the design and creation of a new website for Fiancee.

David Mulcahy from Conversion Strategies says: "We are very happy to work with Fiancee Jewelry and we have just completed the process of launching their new website. They contacted us because they needed a website that would work for their local business. It needed to look beautiful, be branded to their business, and better attract new local visitors to convert them into customers."

The jewelry store site developed by the Chicago web design company showcases the different categories of jewelry being offered, which are bridal, engagement, and men's jewelry. The jewelry company has existed for over three decades, in which time they have set themselves apart as the go-to source for wedding jewelry. However, they wanted to have a strong online presence, which was why they contacted Conversion Strategies.

"We have created a website that actually works for this popular local business," adds David Mulcahy. "We worked with them to provide an affordable but fully inclusive web design package to best service their business. We work with any type of local business, regardless of age and size, but it was a true honor to work with such an established and popular business as Fiancee Jewelry. We have taken charge of the technical side of their business, ensuring they can focus on what they do best: serving their customers and growing their business."

The affordable packages offered by Conversion Strategies are all listed on their website at <https://conversionstrategies.net>. Each website they create is professionally designed and fully mobile responsive. As part of the package, they manage and host the websites and ensure that they remain search engine optimized. Furthermore, packages include 24/7 security and monitoring and come with social media integration. Furthermore, each package includes unlimited website edits, so that businesses are assured that they will always have the most relevant website.
