They want to make sure that they not only sell fitness equipment, but are seen as an inspiration that encourages people to actually use the equipment and achieve greater health.

"We encourage everybody to join us on Facebook," adds owner Tim Adams. "That is an opportunity to be kept up to date with news about our store and the world of fitness in general. It's also a great place to get motivated about exercise, whether you're just starting out or already taking part in an extensive program. The TRUE CS900 Treadmill, for instance, is the perfect item for any large gym facility. At the same time, it is compact enough to be used in a home gym as well. It has all the features you would expect from a high quality treadmill and then some. The console that comes with the treadmill measures all the important data and even comes with an iPod docking station to provide entertainment for the user. It also comes with TRUE Fitness' Patented Soft System, which means it is orthopedically correct to prevent it from causing injury.
