Georgia based The Brown Firm Athens is pleased to announce that they recently unveiled their new website. The experienced Athens Personal Injury Lawyers from The Brown Firm specializes in getting clients the compensation they deserve for lost wages, medical bills, property damage, pain and suffering and quality of life, and the new website will serve as another resource for victims of such cases in the future.

Dr. Harry Brown, founder and Managing Attorney of The Brown Firm, says, ?At The Brown Firm Athens, we are all about making the lives of our clients easier. Most often, this philosophy is applied in our work as we strive to do our best and earn justice for our clients. However, there are times that we apply this philosophy to other parts of our operations, such as our online presence. This is why we have redesigned the entirety of The Brown Firm Athens? website from the ground up. Now, our clients will find that navigating our website is much easier than it used to be.?

He explains, ?All of our individual pages have been redone, and the information you want to find can be found more intuitively and read with ease. Plus, our old website was lagging behind the times, so we have made sure that The Brown Firm Athens website now meets every standard of a modern website.?

In addition to obvious visual updates and quality-of-life improvements, the website has also had a lot of work done on the back end. According to the firm, this will ensure that the website loads faster and performs better across all web browsers and operating systems. Further, the site has also had extensive optimization done in order to ensure a consistent high quality performance on mobile devices.

As both a Doctor and Lawyer, Harry Brown developed his Georgia Personal Injury Practice with a vision of compassion for the individual and a dedicated heart to fight for justice. Dr. Brown says, "I?m one of the few attorneys who is also a medical practitioner, so I know how to work with other attorneys, healthcare providers and insurance companies to get the best possible outcome for my clients."

The services rendered by The Brown Firm in Athens, GA have earned the law firm respect and praise from the local community. On the Google platform, they have a perfect rating of 5 Stars. In a recent review, Chelsea Ruth says, ?I am really happy to have this team support me and my daughter through our case. I hope everyone in GA chooses them because they are excellent.?

Meanwhile, in a review shared on the law firm?s website, Shoona Reid says, ?There are no words that can truly express our gratitude to the Brown Firm for guiding and exceeding our expectations in four accident cases. Mr. Harry Brown personally took the time to call me, discuss strategy, confirmed my comfort on every level and extended his personal cell phone number. In all cases, Mr. Brown and his team were able to secure my family with a higher settlement than anticipated. They were professional and assertive in their approach. I would highly recommend the Brown Firm to anyone in need of legal guidance with an accident.?
