

Minneapolis HVAC Service Company Offers Written Customer Promise

August 16, 2017

August 16, 2017 -

TemperaturePro SW Minneapolis Heating & Cooling, is a locally owned Minneapolis heating and cooling company, and is proud of the fact that they do business differently from other service providers. John and his wife Jenny believe that each customer should be treated the same way they would want to be treated. They have now announced that they actually promise this in a writing to their customers.

John Gerken, co-owner of TemperaturePro in SW Minneapolis, says: "We treat each customer exactly how we would expect to be treated by a service company. We know that every HVAC company makes some sort of promise about their service, but we truly mean it. This is why we have released a written promise to guarantee our unwavering commitment to our customers. We are not sales guys that try to get the most money out of you, thinking you will never come back. We actually want you to keep coming back. We want to be your furnace and AC repair guys for life."

John & Jenny's Promise, or the J2 (J-squared) Promise, demonstrates that the company is one that can be trusted, that communicates properly every step of the way, that only hires certified and trained technicians, and that charges a fair price. Furthermore, the promise indicates that the company believes in educating its customers so that they understand what they are paying for, why that is a fair price, and what needs to be done for their HVAC system. Finally, they provide a 100% guarantee and won't leave until the customer is 100% satisfied.

Jenny Gerken says: "You may feel that this is quite a big promise, but we stand by it 100%. We want to make sure our customers are confident that they won't get ripped off. Our service is honest and trustworthy, and we guarantee that."

Clearly, the company approach is being appreciated, as shown in their many 5 star reviews. Dave G., for instance, says on the company website: "I could not have been more pleased. Out of four companies that bid, John was the only one who actually went up on the roof of our 6 story condo and gave a detailed breakdown of recommendations that others would have missed or would have added charges."

###

For more information about TemperaturePro SW Minneapolis Heating & Cooling, contact the company here: TemperaturePro SW Minneapolis Heating & Cooling John Gerken (612) 601-7030 info-mpls@temperaturepro.com TemperaturePro SW Minneapolis Heating & Cooling 4423 Nicollet Ave Minneapolis, Minnesota 55419

TemperaturePro SW Minneapolis Heating & Cooling

TemperaturePro SW Minneapolis is a customer-focused HVAC (Heating, Ventilation and Air Conditioning) service provider in Minneapolis, MN. Dedicated to do everything humanly possible in providing outstanding service

Website: <http://Furnace-ACrepairMinneapolis.com>

Email: info-mpls@temperaturepro.com

Phone: (612) 601-7030

