Vi-Tae, Inc., a business in Houston, TX, has released an all natural first aid spray on Amazon. The company, famous for their all natural products including a popular cellulite treatment cream, has created this easy to use spray to treat various minor injuries for the entire family. It is hoped more people will try this particular spray to provide quick relief.

"There are many first aid sprays on the market and most people use them without ever looking at the ingredients," says Elizabeth Robinson from Vi-Tae, Inc. "The majority of these products are full of harsh chemicals, which, although they may help to heal a minor injury, are absorbed by the body where they wreak untold havoc. Our all natural Make it Better spray avoids this and instead provides natural, wholesome healing."

Like the popular cellulite treatment cream, Make it Better first aid spray is made up of a range of important natural ingredients: aloe vera powder, Atlantic kelp powder, sunflower seed oil, lavender oil and jojoba seed powder. Put together, these ingredients do not just heal minor injuries such as cuts, bruises, bites, stings, sunburn, rashes and other skin irritations; they also help to moisturize the skin, leaving it feeling soft, smooth and healthy.

Reviews to date have been overwhelmingly positive and mention the efficacy of the product, its all natural ingredients and its wonderful scent. "Make It Better first aid spray feels tingly and cool when misted onto irritated skin and has an immediate soothing effect," says Margaret Picky. "It has a clean but complex fragrance that is dominated by lavender and mint with noticeable undertones of the many other botanical ingredients in the formula. It also lightly coats and protects the skin."

All health and beauty products created by Vi-Tae, Inc. are 100% natural and come with a full satisfaction guarantee. Those who try the all natural first aid spray and are not 100% satisfied with its results can rely on the extended one year money back guarantee. The product and brand are both highly trusted, leading many customers to order this handy spray as a reassuring defense against minor scrapes and burns.
