

Illinois Dentist Offers New Invisalign Express

Northbrook, Illinois - Those looking to have a perfect smile and fix crooked teeth now have a more comfortable and less noticeable alternative to metal braces. Dr. Kacel of Northbrook Dentist Office notes that Invisalign Express uses custom made, removable aligners that gradually straighten crooked teeth. The aligners are clear, making them virtually invisible so strangers do not have to know that patients are wearing them.

Dr. Kacel explains that although the trays should be worn for 20 to 22 hours per day, there is time to take them out for eating, brushing and flossing. This is appealing to patients because it allows them to properly clean their teeth in a way previously unable to those with metal braces.

Further information on the benefits of Invisalign Express can be found in Dr. Kacel's latest blog post at www.northbrookdentistoffice.com. The dentist's blog aims to create more informed patients who have less problems to deal with the next time they come into Dr. Kacel's office.
