Dentist In San Gabriel Stays Open To Help New Patients

December 22, 2020

December 22, 2020 -
InStyle Dental, a San Gabriel, California-based dental office, would like to announce that they are still open and accepting new patients. With the COVID-19 protocols that are currently in place, it may be difficult to find a dental office that is both open and safe. InStyle Dental has taken special precautions to ensure that their facilities are safe for Californians in need of dental care.

?Our number one mission has always been to keep you, our team and our community safe,? says the California dental office. ?We are confident that our established safety procedures, which have been enhanced with COVID-19 protocols following recommendations from the CDC, OSH and the California Dental Association, ensure this. With a service as essential to your health as dentistry is, we believe it our duty to continue to serve our patients in a safe environment.?

As of this week, the LA County Order aligned with the State Regional Stay-At-Home Order, which means that there is currently a ban on all gatherings of any size of people from more than one household. It also means that all indoor dining, entertaining and personal grooming services are currently closed. This does not, however, mean that one cannot access non-urgent medical and dental care, and dentists can still provide this essential service as long as they take special precautions to avoid spreading the virus. Studies have shown that there is a link between the bacteria found in inflamed gums and the possibility of developing complications when infected with COVID-19, including very serious issues like respiratory failure.

Some of the precautions InStyle Dental is taking include personalized arrival procedures designed to avoid having patients touch surfaces, social distancing in the reception area, requiring that all patients wear masks upon entering the office and much more. These precautions are what healthcare professionals and organizations like the Centre for Disease Control recommend, and it has been proven that following these precautions greatly reduces the rate of spread of the COVID-19 virus.

InStyle Dental is known for providing dental care in a warm, relaxing environment. Dr. Brian Kar and the rest of the InStyle Dental team work together to ensure that every patient is as comfortable as possible while receiving some of the best healthcare California has to offer. He follows a personal philosophy of building long-lasting relationships with all of his patients ? which increases his ability to offer them quality oral care.

?InStyle Dental provides dental care education and the most sophisticated general, pediatric, cosmetic, orthodontic and periodontic dentistry procedures for patients of all ages,? says InStyle Dental. ?If you?ve been avoiding the dentist because of anxiety or cost, visit InStyle Dental where our friendly team and highly-trained dentists offer services to smile about. At InStyle Dental, we want everyone to benefit from excellent oral health and a dazzling smile. If dental fees are keeping you from this goal, you?ll be glad to know we?ve structured our fees and financing plans to help you fit your dental needs into your family budget. Our customized dental care begins long before you sit in the dental chair. We carefully consider your time, your teeth and your budget with every appointment, and throughout each procedure.?

The dental office puts patient education first. Whether teaching proper oral care for children or helping their adult patients with complex dental issues, Dr. Kar and his team make it a point to ensure that every patient is well educated on the topic of oral health and understands exactly what they need to do to keep their teeth healthy.

A number of patients have left excellent reviews of the office?s services. One 5-Star review commends the dental office for providing an, ?Absolute great service. Service is quick, efficient and done correctly. Staff is knowledgeable and friendly. Staff is great with adults and children. Myself and my three children (aged 10, 4 and 2) have all had great experiences for the past three years. Definitely would recommend them.?

Another patient says, ?I?ve been coming to InStyle Dental for quite some time now, and I have to say the entire staff is always so friendly. Dr. Kar is an awesome dentist; definitely recommend him to anyone who wants a pearly white smile. The entire staff and the dental hygienist always do such a thorough teeth cleaning.?
