The blog post defines whiplash as a soft tissue injury to the cervical spine resulting from a sudden back and forth movement due to a car accident. It may be in the form of a slight pain with neck movement or worsen into an all-out muscle spasm that causes tension headaches. The blog post explains that recovery may take weeks or months, citing statistics that 2 million people in the United States suffer from whiplash every year.

A whiplash doctor in Decatur is the best person to diagnose signs and symptoms of a soft tissue injury. It would be a mistake to ignore signs or mistake them for typical soreness after an accident, warns the blog post, listing some common whiplash symptoms that can affect the quality of life of the victim. According to the Decatur chiropractor, ?constant pain and numbness can affect your mood and even change your personality and disturb sleep quality."
