June 26, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Carol Mango, owner of Gymnastic World, has announced that Summer Camp is open for registration. She added that New Discounted Summer Camp Rates are also available and urges all interested parties to go to the company's website for more details.

Gymnastic World hosts a 10,000 square foot facility that is completely air-conditioned, which Carol says is an excellent way to beat the heat and having a fun time doing it. Gymnastic World stated that summer camp will be offered throughout summer, and also during most of school holidays and vacations. They added that they have a very flexible schedule. For parents, this is ideal, as it allows them to pick their days and weeks in order to match their busy lifestyles.

Carol Mango said that their summer camp is open to everyone from the ages of three and up. She added that they also offer extended hours, which is available upon request.

To register for summer camp, applicants need to go online to the company's website. From here, they need to click on the Programs/Classes menu, which is located on the top of the website, and when forwarded to the next page, to look for the Camp Programs link and click on it. Here, interested parties will be able to find the link to the registration form, which is a downloadable PDF file.

Carol said that there will be a whole range of activities such as fun games, arts and crafts, and gymnastic rotations. Trampolines, a bounce house, huge obstacle course, 40 foot tumble track and 14 foot slide are also available for all who join.

Discounts are offered for additional children, and School's Out Camps will be added to the program in the near future.

Carol stated that she is very excited with the upcoming summer camp as it is a great way to build new relationships with people. Before dedicating her life completely into Gymnastic World, the owner held various management responsibilities in the banking industry, including a position of vice president. During this time, she gained experience and wisdom, and has carried this over to her current business, Gymnastic World. On the company's about us page, they make the following statement, "Carol's business acumen is a product of strong character traits. In addition to a willingness to work hard and innate organizing skills, Carol keeps in mind what some business people in America have forgotten; namely, that if you focus on the needs of your customers and treat them in a respectful and friendly manner, a long lasting and successful business will follow. Consequently, Carol values the relationships she has; both with her employees and her business clients. Business is personal because people are. That's the atmosphere we foster at Gymnastic World Naples."

Gymnastic World also has a dedicated Facebook page and invites all interested parties to visit and interact with them, and also to "Like Us on Facebook". For those who have any further questions on the company's summer camp, please contact them by email or call them by phone. All contact information can be found on their website.
