Jewelry Candles Company Announces New Fall Scents

October 07, 2015

October 07, 2015 -
Amherst, New York based 100% soy jewelry candle company JackpotCandles.com, has recently announced the launch of their new fall scents. The company has released the new scents just in time for the autumn season, and are giving away a free candle as a means of thanking their loyal customer base.

"The fall scents we carry are the brand new scents - Pumpkin Pie and Warm Apple Pie, along with Cinnamon Bun, Caramel Coffee Latte, Banana Nut Bread, Cinnamon Sensation, and so many more," states Nicole Szymanski, spokesperson for the company.

The Jackpot Candles jewelry candles have become quite popular due to their unique way of providing not only a long lasting candle, but a piece of jewelry in each one. The candles are burned down until a foil pack is revealed. The foil pack contains the surprise jewelry piece, which could be necklaces, rings or earrings, according to the company. The jewelry value included is not predetermined and customers never know what they are going to receive. The company states that jewelry pieces are valued at anywhere between $15 and $5,000.

"Our customers really do love getting their jewelry," states Nicole Szymanski. "It's like Christmas every time you burn one down and find your special surprise, because you just never know what you're going to get.

Plus, there's the added advantage of these amazing new scents that will instantly make you think of cooler weather, pumpkins, and the upcoming holidays."

The new fall scents are popular choices for the autumn season. Nevertheless, the other scents will still be available as well, for those who prefer lighter scents as opposed to warmer, autumn themed candles.

Nicole Szymanski states, "Anyone who loves candles can like Jackpot Candles on Facebook to win a candle! We regularly hold contests and give away a free jewelry candle to one Facebook subscriber within a specific time period. The giveaway running right now is for our new scent, Pumpkin Pie!"

More information on the company, including a complete description of their newest fall scents, can be seen on their official website. The company also wants to express its appreciation for all of their followers on popular social media site, Pinterest. Nicole Szymanski states, "Love Pinterest? Follow Jackpot Candles for the some inspiration for Fall."
