US Coachways is one of the most popular options across the USA for group bus travel. This is because of all of the advantages this mode of transportation offers to the groups that use it. One of the most requested destinations that they offer charter bus service to is Detroit. That?s why this company wants groups to know all of the benefits that traveling by rental bus into Detroit has to offer them.

US Coachways spokesperson, Mark Telmany, says, ?We have seen our charter bus rentals to Detroit grow in popularity each year. That?s because now more than ever people are starting to recognize the advantages that group rental bus travel has to offer them. It just makes the group travel experience hassle-free and more enjoyable for every member of the group. We have been successfully and safely taking groups in and out of Detroit for many years now and we would welcome the opportunity to do that for your group too.?

Telmany says that there are many good reasons for people to go to Detroit in groups. This includes sporting events such as taking in a Pistons, Tigers, Red Wings or Lions game. It?s also a good city to spend a day or two seeing such attractions as the Detroit Institute of Arts, the Motown Museum, and The Ford Piquette Avenue Plant. Detroit is also a business hub that plays host to many popular conventions and other corporate events. He says Detroit even boasts having many great restaurants to dine at and just seeing the different types of architecture used over the years in the city are worth a trip there.

The company spokesperson also talked about the many advantages that Detroit group bus travel offers. It all starts with how cost-effective it is for group members. They even have a cost calculator on their website so groups can get an estimate of what each member would have to pay when going to Detroit by chartered bus. He says group travel is also better for the environment than a group taking separate vehicles into the city or flying in airplanes that emit lots of emissions during a flight. The fun also starts when the trip does for every group member. There is no stressing out over directions and finding the best ways to destinations. Most importantly he says, every group member can partake in the fun and there is never a need for a designated driver because their professional and experienced drivers have got that covered.

Detroit Bus Rental is also one of the safest ways for people to get back and forth from the city during the ongoing pandemic. Telmany credits this to the fact that the group organizers can control the travel environment. Those in charge of the rental bus trip can do this by requiring such things as group participants getting a negative Covid-19 test prior to travel. The group leader can also choose a bus and group size that allows for proper social distancing. He says this is a much better option than traveling by train or airplane where a person will be sitting next to someone who they have no idea of their present health condition or if they have been taken precautions when it comes to exposing themselves to the virus. Since the group will be dropped off at the front door of their destination, there are also no worries about dealing with city crowds on sidewalks and having to take secondary forms of mass transportation. The company spokesperson added that they also are currently sanitizing all of their buses before each trip to standards that are higher than those recommended by the CDC.

Telmany also pointed out the wide variety of bus options that they offer for their Detroit City charters. That includes full-size buses that seat 49 to 57 passengers, modern sprinter vans that hold as many as 15, and a variety of minibusses to choose from that seat anywhere from 24 to 35 passengers. He mentioned that for longer trips to Detroit they even offer deluxe sleeper buses. The company spokesperson added that those that are part of a group that charters one of their buses, will be simply amazed at how comfortable and nice their fleet of buses are. This is because their buses include such features as high-back plush seats, plenty of storage space inside and under the bus, fancy stereo systems, and more.
