Clovis CA: Equity Assets Real Estate sells Custom Homes for Sale in Clovis, CA

If anyone is searching for custom homes for sale, then Clovis CA is the right place. On his website, Jason Nenadov, owner of Equity Assets Real Estate, talked about what home buyers can expect from the city of Clovis.

Clovis, CA is now the second-largest city in Fresno County, with a population of over 118,000 as of 2020. It has thriving public transport systems. The best part is that they are completely fare-free. Both road and air transport are convenient in Clovis. The Fresno Yosemite International Airport is only 20 minutes from any part of the city.

?There?s also tons of recreational activities in the city,? Jason Nenadov said. He mentioned in particular the 27,000 square foot skatepark for skaters and state-of-the-art batting cages. The latter has 8 baseball pitching machines and 5 softball pitching machines.

Jason also mentioned that the City of Clovis Recreation Center has many sports programs for adults and youth. There are full league programs, as well as drop-in games for those who can?t commit to a full league schedule. There is basketball, soccer, floorball, and inline hockey available.

One of the best things about Clovis, CA is that its homes for sale are among the more affordable ones in California. An interested buyer can purchase a home for under $500,000. In fact, the median price for houses for sale in the city is about $400,000.

Having been in the real estate business for more than a decade, Jason has his fingers on the pulse of the Clovis CA real estate market. Since he started his career, he has helped hundreds of clients achieve their real estate goals with his expertise and unparalleled commitment. ?Having built a business primarily on word of mouth, I treat my clients with the utmost detail as I deliver expert advice all along the way,? Jason said.

In his review, Steve Subotich, Jason?s former client, wrote, ?Jason is a great agent who goes above and beyond for his clients. He has great knowledge and expertise in the local market and is there to answer any questions. He helped me get a great price when I sold my house, and I would suggest him to anyone who is looking to buy or sell a home.?
