Cruvina, providers of shatterproof plastic glasses, announces that their cocktail glasses feature the tumbler design.

Three basic cocktail glass designs include: stemmed, or up, glasses, old fashioned, or rocks, glasses, and chimney-style glasses.

Each type of glass is used to serve a different kind of drink. The stemmed glasses are best-suited for shaken or stirred drinks served without ice. When the glass is held by the stem, it prevents the heat from the hand from warming the drink. Drinks served in this glass include the Martini and the Manhattan. The old fashioned glasses are sturdy tumblers that hold drinks that are built right in the glass. These tumblers can hold up to 14 ounces and the drinks served in them include the Old fashioned and the Mint Julep. The chimney-style glass is can hold up to 16 ounces and is used to serve drinks such as the Gin Fizz or the Gimlet. These cold and refreshing cocktails are served over lots of ice because they are enjoyed over a longer period of time and sometimes sipped through a straw.

Co-Founder Erin Moore says, "There are so many different kinds of cocktail glasses. When we were looking to expand our line of plastic drinkware to provide our customers with a cocktail glass, we knew we wanted to start with a glass that provided the most functionality for a good price. We settled on the tumbler design because it was very versatile. It could be used to serve whiskey neat, but it could also be used to serve mixed drinks. It was just the right size, and it wouldn't tip over because it didn't balance on a stem."

The Cruvina Cocktail Glass Set consists of four flat-bottomed tumblers made of Tritan plastic, a high-quality, food-grade, BPA-free polymer. They are designed with anti-tipping technology and a spill-proof rim. The glasses are strong enough to survive a fall, or a run through the dishwasher, without a scratch. They can be reused time and again, and remain crystal clear. In addition to cocktails, the tumblers can be used to hold many different kinds of drinks, such as soda, juice or even water. And they can be used safely in a variety of settings, both indoors and out.

Cruvina customers are very pleased with the quality of the wine glasses. Here is what one had to say: ?I love these glasses! I own the plastic wine glasses made by this company and was impressed with them, so when I saw they were now selling whiskey tumblers I knew they would be great. And they are. They are quite heavy, in a good way, and don't feel flimsy in the least. They are dishwasher safe and BPA-free. With our kids, it's great to know they won't shatter if something falls. They look great. I just had a dinner party and my guests were asking about them. I definitively recommend them.?

The Cruvina Cocktail Glass Set contains four reusable 14-ounce glasses. It is available on Amazon for $24.97 and comes with a 30-day money-back guarantee.
