Miramar, FL: America's largest distributor of factory authorized replacement parts for consumer electronics, Herman ProAV, has just launched a new line of HDMI cables, as a part of their 2018 launch of new product lines in the consumer electronics sector.

According to David Wolf, spokesperson at Herman ProAV, "As pioneers in the consumer electronics industry, we are proud to be constantly revolutionizing the industry with our pathbreaking products. The HDMI cable, which ranges from 3 feet long wires to 35 feet long wires, supports the best quality of ultra high definition quality video (2160p). It also supports 3D video, 48-bit deep color and wide-angle theatrical 21:9 video."

One of the unique features of the HDMI cable is that it provides simultaneous multi-stream audio to multiple users, boasting a Dolby True HD, DTS-HD Master Audio and up to 1536kHz audio sample frequency. It has 19 Pin Type A Male to Male connectors with CL3 rated jackets and 24k gold plated connectors that ensures that its customers receive the highest audio and video quality without losing any of it from the Blu - Ray player, Apple TV, PS4, PS3, Fire TV, XBox One, Xbox 360, computers and other HDMI enabled devices.

The product is already proving to be a huge hit amongst the consumers with one happy buyer stating, "Everything seems to need an HDMI cable anymore. We bought this for our kids room because he has friends that bring their gaming systems over and it's nice to have an extra lying around so we don't have to take it off of something already being used in another room. The cord seems good quality, has stayed together through several occasions of plugging in and out."
