Amazon hand selects popular products that customers search for and purchase to be featured as their Amazon's choice; this allows people to know that the product is Amazon recommended based on performance, customer support and matching customer searches with the right product.

FruX Home and Yard's Fairy Star String Lights have been selected for Amazon's choice, for the search term 'Fairy Star String Lights.' Meaning that due to the frequent purchases of twinkling copper string lights that stem from the search term 'Fairy Star String Lights,' Amazon.com has declared their product over 1,755 other similar products to be recommended.

The twinkling lights set features a remote control with dimmable and twinkle settings that works using infrared and receives the remote signal from across a room. These string lights have small LED lights every 4 inches, so in total, the 39 feet of copper wire has 117 lights on them.

FruX's copper string lights twinkle indoors and out, a weather resistant coating on the copper wire allows customers to use the fairy lights anywhere outside as well as inside. Customers will also notice that each purchase comes with a free battery adapter for portable use. The twinkle fairy lights have received reviews from customers who have used the lights for camping, on awnings, reading nooks.

These twinkling fairy lights are versatile, durable and can be left up all year round to create a fun atmosphere for summer BBQs or a twinkling wonderland for the holidays. Furthermore, the company has now updated its product listing that includes the Amazon Badge, to include a full user's guide on the fairy lights that aims to answer any questions customers may have.

With free shipping on orders over $49, customers can purchase one set for themselves and one as a gift for a friend. Frux Home and Yard is a family-owned business that prides themselves on providing high-quality and long-lasting products at an affordable price.
