LeClassiqueShop has announced that the upcoming release of the company's popular cargo truck organizer in two new colors: pink and grey. People are encouraged to click on the link to Amazon.com product page to view the product and its available colors. The product, previously only available in black, has long been a best selling item on the Amazon platform.

Robert Donelli from LeClassiqueShop says: "We are a boutique shop that specializes in providing our customers with the best quality and premium trunk organizers for cars, SUVs, trucks and mini vans. We believe that our organizer is simply the best, and the fact that it has received nearly 1,500 reviews is a true testament to that. Making it available in two colors other than black will allow people to have some added style in their vehicle."

Not only does the shop offer useful products for daily life, they also have a strong presence on social media through which they aim to communicate with and educate customers through instructional videos, special monthly offers, Amazon giveaways for a chance to win free organizers, upcoming products, and more. Customers can now subscribe by clicking on the link to TrunkCratePro YouTube channel, and also by following them on Twitter, Pinterest, or Facebook. Doing so means that they will never again miss a special offer.

TrunkCratePro has held best selling status on Amazon for some time now. It has received thousands of positive reviews, with people expressing how happy they were with the organizer and how it has prevented their vehicles from getting cluttered and their belongings from slipping around. "Gave my son two for his Yukon and he likes them and is using them. We just bought a new Rav4 and I wanted something for the back to keep the groceries from shifting around. Our son said he thought your organizer would fit the bill. Definitely happy with the product and with the customer service....," says an Amazon customer.

People are encouraged to click on the link to company website to get further information and to be kept up to date with any special offers, discounts, or new products that might be on offer.
